Important Notice Regarding the Voluntary Recall of Our Taiwan Exclusive Product “DHC CONCENTRATED BENI KOJI”

We sincerely thank you for your continued patronage of our products.

DHC has confirmed the use of red yeast (beni koji) material manufactured by Kobayashi Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd., which is our raw material supplier, in our “DHC CONCENTRATED BENI KOJI” (hereinafter, “the product”) that we distributed in Taiwan.

Although DHC has confirmed no quality issues in quality tests of the product and has received no reports of serious kidney diseases to date, to alleviate potential concern among consumers who have purchased the product, DHC has discontinued sales of the product in Taiwan and will promptly conduct a voluntary recall.

We sincerely apologize for any concern this may have caused our customers and all related parties.

DHC has issued an announcement that the red yeast (beni koji) material used in the products DHC manufactures and distributes in Japan is different from that manufactured by Kobayashi Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd.
